PASSIONATE ABOUT PRINT

Maincolour have always held a passion for print. Perhaps that explains our drive and enthusiasm for what we do. We understand how important your literature is to you, that's why we place so much importance on getting it right.

It's not just about putting ink on paper – it's more important than that. It's about ensuring that your brand and corporate identity are protected. Which means getting the colour right and making images true to life.

Print can be such an emotive medium – it can turn a good product into a great one. You want your product literature to help develop your business. The look, the feel and the overall appeal should represent exactly what you want.

You need to work with someone who understands all of these aspects of print. Maincolour can help you achieve your goals. To partner you on this journey, to guide and advise along the way.

We have the passion to turn your dreams into reality.

Plant

At our premises in Macclesfield we operate two Heidelberg printing presses. One is a CD102 which will print up to 5 colours in one pass, to a maximum sheet size of 720mm x 1020 mm. The other is a SM74 which will print 6 colours in one pass to a maximum sheet size of 520mm x 720 mm. The SM74 will also perfect, two back two colour, or two back four colour, to enable us to be competitive on print runs from a few hundred, up to millions of copies. We have integrated digital print equipment from Xerox which offers a full spectrum of personalisation and data management services, to enable us to be competitive on short run, quick turn around jobs.

Storage and Distribution

We have ample storage space, which enables us to store jobs on your behalf and deliver when required using the most cost effective logistics solution. We have our own fleet of unlicensed vehicles plus relationships with national and international secure courier services.
